

Next steps

You can view electronic copies of the application on the project's dedicated website blairhill-wind farm.co.uk or on the Energy Consents Unit's (ECU) website by searching for application ECU00004878 at <https://www.energyconsents.scot/ApplicationSearch.aspx>.

You can also access the application by scanning the QR code below.

[www.energyconsents.scot/
ApplicationSearch.aspx](https://www.energyconsents.scot/ApplicationSearch.aspx)

In addition, hard copies of the documentation are available at the following locations during normal opening hours for public viewing:

Newton Stewart
Library
Church Street,
Newton Stewart
DG8 6ER

John McNeillie Library
Wigtown County
Buildings, Wigtown
DG8 9JH

A statutory consultation period is being held by the ECU to enable the public, as well as key consultees, to submit formal representations on the proposals. Feedback will be assessed against the proposals and a determination made by Scottish Ministers. You can submit a representation to the ECU in the following ways:

 Online: Accessing the Online Planning Information System, and leave a comment on application ECU00004878 at <https://www.energyconsents.scot/ApplicationDetails.aspx?cr=ECU00004878>

 Email: Contact the Energy Consents Unit at representations@gov.scot, quoting the reference ECU00004878 including your full name, address, and the date in your email.

 Post: Writing to Energy Consents Unit, Scottish Government, 5 Atlantic Quay, 150 Broomielaw, Glasgow G2 8LU and quoting the reference: ECU00004878, your full name, address, and the date.

All representations should be made no later than 2nd May 2025 although Scottish Ministers may consider representations after this date.

Glenchamber Wind Farm, between New Luce, Kirkcowan and Glenluce, Dumfries and Galloway.

Blair Hill Wind Farm

www.blairhill-windfarm.co.uk

RES
power for good